

MENC Centennial Canon

In 2007, we celebrate the centennial of MENC. In preparation for that milestone, MENC members responded to an appeal for a Centennial Canon by sending in a number of high-quality compositions. A committee of composers and educators chose Sean Boyle's "Perpetual Canon" as the submitted composition that best celebrates the joy of music education.

MENC members will be hearing—and singing—this canon at a number of events as we celebrate our first hundred years and look forward to the future.

Who now shall rise and sing, ring-ing forth the song of man.

Pass it on to youn-ger hands! It will not be stilled. stilled.
